DETAILED ACTION

1. This Office Action is in response to the Amendment submitted/entered on February 1, 2005 for the patent application number 09/781,483.
2. The present patent application claims priority from provisional application number 60/034,490, filed on Jan 13, 1997.
3. The pending claims 1-62, 64-65 are examined herein as follows.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

4. Claims 1-2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. Data structures not claimed as embodied in computer readable media are descriptive material per se and are not statutory because they are neither physical "things" nor statutory processes. (See e.g., Warmerdam, 33 F.3d at 1361, 31 USPQ2d at 1760 (claim to a data structure per se held non-statutory). Such claimed data structures do not define any structural and functional interrelationships between the data structure and other claimed aspects of the invention which permit the data structure's functionality to be realized. In contrast, a claimed computer-readable medium encoded with a data structure defines structural and functional interrelationships between the data structure and the medium which permit the data structure's functionality to be realized and is statutory.

5. Claims 7-50 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. Claim 7 recites "A guide page comprising:" "a video layer", "a graphic layer" and "a control layer". These layers are software components. With Consistent, explicit and deliberate definitions in the specification, the alleged "guide page" does not necessarily include hardware. Said "guide page" is not tangibly embodied in a manner so as to be executable. For at least this reason claim 7 is non-statutory. Claims 40 and 45 recite "an interactive program guide (IPG)" comprising similar software components with claim 7, for the same reason given to claim 7, these claims are also non-statutory. The claims that depend on independent claims 7, 40 and 45 are also non-statutory.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 4-6, and 51-62, and 64-65 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: while the applier art, Killian, discloses interactive television guide supported by Java applet, But Killian fails to explicitly teach a plurality of logically linked applets, wherein each of the applets defining a graphical layer, a video layer and a control layer, as recited and/or arranged in the claims.

Art Unit: 2173

7. Claim 3 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: claim 3 recites at least said "linked applets" as described in the above allowable claims. Thus, for the same reason, Killian fails to explicitly teach linked applets, associated with video layer, control layer and graphical layer as recited and/or arranged in the claim 3.
